

FURTHER EVENT INFORMATION

Power Plant is an outdoor event and is experienced by following lit pathways through bush trails and across an open field. Your journey begins in the event entrance area on the corner of The Crescent and Kiosk Road, next to the Wintergarden Pavilion Café and duck ponds. Once you are there, join the short queue that corresponds with your session time.

Power Plant will go ahead rain or shine. There is no rain shelter on site so we suggest that you bring a raincoat. Please remember to wear comfortable walking shoes (or Gumboots) with good grip, as there are hills and steps and the walk is mostly in the bush.

The track is not suitable for wheelchairs, buggies or strollers.

Ticketmaster Print-at-Home-Ticket holders – PLEASE MAKE SURE YOU HAVE YOUR PRINTED TICKET WITH YOU.

A venue map showing the best way to get to the event, and parking options is available online at www.aaf.co.nz

Entry Times

We suggest arriving 20 minutes earlier than the time on your ticket to give you time to find your queue. On arrival to the site, find the queue for your session time stipulated on your ticket. One of our friendly ushers will brief you and lead you to the beginning of the event pathway. Once you are in, follow the pathway in one direction. The route is approximately 1.2km long. The event closes at approximately 11.00pm.

Wheelchair Accessibility

Sorry, there is no wheelchair access to this event. There are no accessible pick up or drop off points at the Domain.

THINGS YOU NEED TO KNOW BEFORE YOU LEAVE HOME:

Getting to the Domain and Parking

We encourage you to use public transport to travel to the event site, which is within easy walking distance via Park Road, Lower Domain Drive and Domain Drive. There will be road closures in place and car parking adjacent to the Domain is limited. The closest train stations are Grafton Station and Newmarket Station. There are INNER LINK bus stops along Park Road, Parnell Road and Broadway and also OUTER LINK bus stops on Parnell Rd and Broadway. There is a Wilson car park at Carlaw Park Ave and other carparks as indicated on the venue map.

If you need to bring a car, look for the low cost carparks in Wilson parking buildings in Newmarket (discounted prices after 6pm).
